CORPSE ROBBED

Mountain Hill, Va.—It has just been discovered that the grave of J. M. Milam, who died here recently, has been opened and the watch and pistol of the deceased stolen. By the request of the dead man, these articles had been buried with him, and the pistol especially was known to be of unusual value, and this, it is supposed, was the inducement of the shameful deservation.

be of unusual value, and this, it is supposed, was the inducement of the shame-lul desecration.

The reason for the peculiar request of the deceased that his pistol be burred with him is not positively known. Mr. Milam was a sharpshooter in the Civil War, and killed many men, being accounted one of the finest marksmen in the army. His was fighting blood. Since the war it is said that four men have perished in common bat with him. Those who knew him best say that he had something of the Indian's feeling about being buried with his reapon—a superstition that he might need it in that other land to which he had sent so many. To others, it seemed that it was simply affection for the weapon which had stood by him so faithfully in times of danger, for this man was no murderer, and all his killing was in fair combat or self-defense. Whatever the motive, the wishes of the dead man were respected; until the cupidity of some ghoulish thief took from the poor lifeless clay its strange bed-fellow for the last long sleep.

No stomach dosing when you breathe HYOMEI. Just pour a few drops of the liquid into the inhaler and breathe it in. It is mighty pleasant to use; it opens up those stuffed-up nostrils in two minutes, and makes your lead Seel as clear as a bell in a short time.

Breathe HYOMEI and kill the catarrh germs. It's the only way to cure catarrh. It's the only way to get rid of that constant hawking, sintfling and spitting. A complete HYOMEI ontit, which includes a bottle of HYOMEI and a hard rubber pocket inhaler, costs $1.00 at Tragle's and druggists everywhere. If you already own a Hyomei inhaler you can get an extra bottle of HYOMEI for $50 cents.
